Believe in the good things,
Hard things,
And all things in between

We must climb every mountain
Cross every river

The present,
The future;

To show us that by using what we have learned,
We can accomplish anything
If we put our minds to it

So if you want to change the world
Believe,
In yourself and others

And as a matter of fact
We will
